CLYDE DOYLE WILL PITCH FOR C. E. TEAM AT CONVENTION GAME

Clyde Doyle hails from Long Beach and is scheduled to pitch for the Christian Endeavor baseball team against Glendale High on the Saturday afternoon of the Convention, March 17.

Mr. Doyle is a pitcher of some fame among high school athletes, having won fifteen consecutive games from Long Beach High. He will be supported by a team of ex-High School stars and promises to have a jump on the ball when he faces Glendale.

He is an enthusiastic Christian Endeavor worker, at present being the Intermediate Superintendent of the California State Union, and on behalf of the I. C. E. has accepted a challenge from the Ohio Intermediates to a membership contest to end July 1.

CLYDE DOYLE

A large delegation of Long Beach Endeavorers will accompany Mr. Doyle to Glendale and there is a rumor that they are going after the 1918 convention. Well, we hope they have better success than they did against the Glendale bunch when they tried for the 1917 convention.

MISSIONARY WILL SPEAK

Instead of the regular church prayer meeting in the Baptist church this week, there will be an open missionary meeting, to which the general public is invited. The speaker will be Rev. George Allan, for many years missionary to the Indians of Boliva. He has a thrilling story to tell with which he recently delighted a full house at the Bible Institute in the ciy. Glendale is fortunate in having this opportunity to hear so distinguished a missionary. Everybody is invited.

FIRST M. E. BARACA NOTES

Rev. Snudden was the speaker at the meeting of the class on Sunday morning. He will also speak next Sunday morning.

The business meeting of the class will be held Thursday evening, March 8, at the home of Herbert Matthiesen, 805 West Fifth street. Let all officers and members be present, as there is very important business to transact.

ENTERTAIN THE SICK

Mrs. R. W. Meeker, as a member of the Altruistic section of the Schubert club, arranged a program for the convalescents at the county hospital, Friday evening. Mrs. William Herman West, Mr. Frank Liddell, Mr. Herbert Henning and Miss Alice Frank gave generously of their time and talent in this philanthropic work. These artists had the satisfaction of knowing that their entertainment was appreciated by those who heard them as well as by Mrs. Meeker, who had the program in charge.

DEATH OF J. C. PLANNETTE

Jacob C. Plannette passed away at his home, 1554 Riverside drive, Sunday, March 4, at 5:40 a. m. Mr. Plannette was born June 26, 1834, being 82 years, 7 months and 8 days old at the time of his death. His birthplace was Maryland and he was of German parentage. He had lived in Glendale for five years. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. E. S. McKee of Glendale, and Mrs. Rhodora Plannette is a daughter-in-law of the deceased.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at the Pulliam Undertaking company parlors, under the auspices of N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., of which he was a member, Rev. J. H. Henry conducting the services

AT STATE CAPITOL

COUNTY LOCAL OPTION BILL COMES BEFORE SENATE THIS WEEK

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 5.—One of the biggest things before the legislature will be decided this week, in the senate at any rate. This is the county unit local option bill, reported out of the senate public morals committee with recommendation by four members of the committee—Luce, Evans, Chandler and Brown—that the bill be passed, and by three—Flaherty, Slater and Sharkey—that the bill be not passed. This bill would make a whole county the unit in local option elections instead of incorporated cities and supervisorial districts within the county as at present. It is the drys' big move of the session.

It will come up for action on the floor of the senate Tuesday or Wednesday and there are various predictions as to how the senators will line up. The three minority members of the committee, Flaherty, Slater and Sharkey, are declaring that it is not for the legislature to deal with the liquor question; it will come up for a vote of the people in 1918, they say, and, anyway, "most any bill passed by the legislature would be held up by referendum until the 1918 general election." On those grounds the minority three will pin their hopes of crushing the county unit bill. If they succeed, it will remain to be seen whether they will be consistent on other booze legislation.

The assembly will not take up the county unit bill until the senate has acted on it. Of course, if it passes the senate, the wets will call their assembly forces "to the rescue."

The wets don't appear to be worried in the assembly. In fact they say they are certain of 41 of the 80 votes in the assembly on any wet and dry question. And, incidentally, it is commonly reported that the wets in both branches are not caring particularly whether the Ashley saloon regulation bill survives committee action.

The session will otherwise ginger up this week, with much interest centered in the public hearing before the senate committee Thursday night on the state market director conroversy, the Brown-Weinstock rumpus about which columns have been written. The principals will be on hand and a rare battle is looked for.

The first week's grind of the second session was mostly routine with several features predominating. Both branches passed resolutions backing up President Wilson and taking a crack at the high cost of living. County assessors are now making an investigation under the direction of the legislature, as to the amount of foodstuffs stored in warehouses, and to report back through the state board of equalization.

One bill, in effect an anti-capital punishment measure, met the most notorious death of the week, being voted down 25 to 12. Each branch of the legislature passed about 20 bills during the week, on most of which there was little or no argument.

CHILDREN'S VAUDEVILLE

Children's vaudeville will be given at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, March 9, at 8 p. m., and a matinee will be held Saturday afternoon, March 10, at 2:30 p. m. All the essentials of an ideal vaudeville program have been promised. The program will comprise numbers from each of our Glendale schools. "The Wizard of Oz," which is always entertaining, will be presented. There will be a "Sunflower Chorus" under the direction of Mrs. U. F. Newlin, who is a real artist in this line of work. Another very attractive number will be a Spanish dance by Lois Naudain. All the other numbers have been carefully prepared and are very entertaining. Receipts are for the benet of the Glendale Federation of P. T. A. The program will be published in full within the next few days. Tickets may be had for the nominal sum of 10 cents to the Friday evening performance; matinee tickets for adults, 10 cents, and children 5 cents. Everyone should procure a ticket to help this noble work along.

JOINT CLASS MEETING

Attention, J. O. C.'s and the Young Business Men's class of the First M. E. church, be on hand at 6:30 sharp Tuesday, March 6, in the social hall of the church for the picnic supper. Business meeting of the classes will take place after the supper, and a good social time is promised following the meeting.

WILSON BEGINS SECOND TERM

PRESIDENT SOUNDS NEW DOCTRINE OF WORLD PEACE IN TAKING OATH OF OFFICE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Wilson took the inaugural oath at 12:47, members of the cabinet, diplomatic corps, the supreme court and both houses of Congress occupying the platform. Tens of thousands witnessed the ceremony, staying in line in spite of the cold wind.

In his inaugural address the president sounded a new doctrine of international and world peace but simultaneously gave the warning that this nation may be required to be more immediately associated with war than by armed neutrality. His peace plea called for a limitation of world armament, equal responsibilities of all nations to maintain peace, freedom of the seas, that no nation has the right to incite a revolution in another nation. In regard to armed neutrality he said, "We have been obliged to arm our merchantmen to make good our claims to certain rights. We must stand firm for in no other way can we demonstrate what we insist upon. We may be drawn upon by circumstances to a more active assertion of our rights as we see them and a more immediate association with the great struggle. Such steps would be taken with no selfish purpose and without a view of conquest or self aggrandizement."

Preceding the inaugural, the president in an open carriage drawn by four horses in true colonial fashion with Mrs. Wilson at his side, drove through the great iron gates of the White House down Pennsylvania avenue between massed lanes of frantic and cheering Americans to the capitol where, after witnessing the inauguration of the vice-president, he adjourned to the east portico of the capitol, where a vast expanse of flag-draped platforms covered the side of the great building. Twelve hundred midshipmen from the United States naval academy, 700 West Point cadets, in full military regalia swept past the stand and saluted the president. Following the inauguration ceremonies, President and Mrs. Wilson and Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall returned to the White House.

MARSHALL TAKES OATH

VICE-PRESIDENT IN INAUGURAL SPEECH SAYS THIS GOVERNMENT WAS DIVINELY ORDAINED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Taking the oath for the second time, Vice-President Marshall expressed his belief that the world is moving forward "to a far-off divine event wherein the tongues of the nations will be blended in terms of common brotherhood." He said he had faith that this government was divinely ordained to disclose whether men were fitted by nature or can be by education for self government; to teach the essential equality of all men before the law; to be tender and true to humanity and everywhere and under all conditions reveal that service is the greatest thing.

For but the fifth time in the history of the United States, a vice-president was inaugurated to succeed himself when Mr. Marshall took the oath to-day. He received his goodly share of the nation's tribute to-day. By strict impartiality as president of the Senate during the stormy sessions of the past administration, the vice-president has gained the respect of the upper house and the warm friendship of the men who run things in Washington. Marshall's inauguration took place in the Senate chamber immediately preceding the inauguration of the president. Following prayer by the chaplain of the Senate, Senator Saulsbury administered the oath.

WILSON ASKS LEGAL ADVICE

PRESIDENT WILL ARM MERCHANT SHIPS IF AUTHORITIES DECIDE HE HAS THE POWER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Wilson has asked the government legal authorities for an opinion within twenty-four hours as to whether he has the power to furnish naval armament for American merchantment without a special Congressional authorization. On this decision depends whether he will go ahead and arm merchant vessels in spite of the action of Congress. In case it is found he has not the authority to do this, it is believed he will call a special session of Congress at once and reintroduce the armed neutrality bill.

COAST GUARD SEAMEN LOST

MEMBERS OF THE CREW OF THE YAMER BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED IN RESCUE WORK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NORFOLK, March 5.—It is believed that fifteen members of the coast guard Yamer's crew have perished. They went to the rescue of the stranded oil steamer, Louisiana. Two of the small lifeboats were swamped and no trace of the men has been found.

NO CHANGE IN THE CABINET

WILSON IS EXPECTED TO SEND TO SENATE TO-MORROW NAMES OF HIS OFFICIAL ADVISERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Wilson may send to the Senate to-morrow the names of all cabinet members. It is believed there will be no change in the personnel of the cabinet at present.

THE END IS NEAR

WHAT WILL COMING OF CHRIST MEAN, ASKS PASTOR BEDDOE

"What Will the Coming of Christ Mean to Tropico?" was the subject of an inspiring discourse last night by Pastor B. E. Beddoe of Glendale, at Evangel Hall, 115 South San Fernando road. The speaker told first what Christ's presence meant to those whom he visited during his earthly life. He brought good cheer, health and life, Mr. Beddoe said. He mentioned particularly Christ's visit to Capernaum. Continuing, the minister said:

"The knowledge that Jesus was in the town soon spread. The sick soon began to gather about him. Some they carry. Some they lead. Some hobble along on crutches and sticks. But they are all coming. They are coming to the home where Jesus is. He speaks with one after another. Hour after hour passes as the Great Physician ministers to the need of men. Not one passes without his closest attention. He makes a careful examination of every case, and each is healed. Cripples go away strong and whole. The blind see. The deaf hear. Great changes happen to scores of people.

"Finally along toward midnight the few who remain, who have not yet seen Jesus to present to him their need, step up to him and say: 'Master, our trouble is so.' They leave healed, and with rejoicing. That night in almost every home you can hear the song of victory. You can hear the voice of praise everywhere. It has been a great night to Capennaum. Jesus lay down to rest at midnight and before daylight was on his way toward the mountains to pray. He had only been in that town a little while, but O, what it means to that town.

"One day I was in San Jose at about noon, and went into a restaurant to get dinner. As I sat at a table reading, suddenly the floor began to heave in a very uncertain way. I thought perhaps I was dizzy. But dishes began to crash to the floor, the women to scream. and general pandemonium reigned. I left the building as quickly as I could and with others went to the middle of the street. What impressed me more than the heaving earth was the wailing and crying of men and women. Srong men were upon their knees, praying for mercy. They thought the end had come. There was no joking, no laughter. It was a tremendously solemn moment. But as I walked up the street a few minutes later, when the quake had ceased, these same people were laughing and joking at their fears and prayers. Such awful mockery.

"As I read in the Book what the coming of Christ will mean, by heart is stirred. It will be a sight of grandeur and glory, awful, terrible. Not a man lives who can fully describe that scene. But what an influence it would have if some man could tell it so we could see it. Millions would go to their knees when the man had finished his story, but it would mean nothing to them. Ten minutes after the impression was gone, the sinner would be a sinner still. God does not frighten men into his kingdom. It is the goodness of God that leadeth men to a repentance.

"Jesus' own words to his disciples, as he was about to leave them, were, 'I will come again.' As he ascended, God sent two angels, who said to the disciples, 'This same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into Heaven.' The Apostle Paul told the disciples Christ would not come in their day, and Peter, explaining why Christ has not come before, says: 'The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness, but is long suffering to usward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.' Matthew 24:33 tells us to look for his soon coming when we see the darkening of the sun and moon and falling of the stars; events which are now in the past. He will come in the clouds, and every eye shall see him. In this same chapter in Matthew we read that it will be as when the lightning shines across the sky, from the east to the west.

"What will it mean to Tropico? Just what it will mean to every other part of the earth. He will come before we are all dead. It means that ere long some of you who face me tonight will gaze upon the glory of the great King. It means that there are fathers and mothers and boys and girls here who will yet see the great King in all his beauty. O, my dear people, I wish we could understand it. I wish God would somehow strengthen our faith in what he says, that before that awful day comes we might yield our lives to him, that God might prepare us for that event. It will be too late then, you know.

"Scores of things are happening in the world that should indicate to the student of God's Word the end is very near. Any man who will take the pains to study the Book will see that this awful anger and perplexity of nations, the increase of crime and sin, and so many things taking place before our eyes, are simply the last activity of the enemy that precedes the stupendous climax. It almost seems as though the hammer on the great clock of time was already rising, ready to fall and strike. When that hammer strikes, it will strike the last hour. Before that ponderous hammer falls, marking the end, may God help you and every one to give themselves wholly to him, that you may live for him here, and live with him hereafter."

This is the last week of the meetings at Evangel Hall. Tuesday night the subject will be , "How to Get Rid of That Sin;" Wednesday, "The Gospel of Health;" Thursday, "Babylon Is Fallen;" Friday, "The Advent Movement a Fulfillment of Prophecy;" Saturday, "Will a Man Rob God?" Sunday, "The Call of the Hour." The meetings will begin at 7:30 each night. No meeting Monday night.

LOOKING FOR SNUBS

Some people make it a business to be looking for snubs, and the condition of things is such that the person who looks for them can usually find them. Scientists have said that there is no sound where there is no ear to hear it, and it is equally true that there is no snub where there is no one to receive it. Words may be spoken in such a manner that they will be construed by a listener as a snub, but these words to have the effect of a snub must fall upon a heart that will allow them to germinate and develop into what is commonly known as a snub. A seed with all of the essentials of germination must have moisture, proper temperature, light and nutrition to bring forth a new plant. Words that may become a snub must likewise have a susceptible heart in which to work.

The writer recalls an instance that happened many years ago when he was teaching in a public school. A boy, almost grown to manhood, revealed the fact after a year had passed, that he had made a practice of making a record of what he called snubs from the teacher. It was indeed interesting to learn what seemingly good evidence he had gathered although the teacher was entirely innocent in the affair and counted upon the boy as being his particular friend. In the case of this young man the snubs existed only in his mind, and so it is with others who talk about being snubbed.

"FROM THE TAX PAYERS' ASSOCIATION OF CALIFORNIA"

In its report to the governor and legislature, the State Tax Commission, created two years ago for the purpose of investigating tax matters in California, strongly recommends the passage by the legislation of a tax limitation law similar in structure and purpose to the limitation acts of Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, which laws have been so successful in operation as to challenge the approval of tax officials and tax payers throughout the country.

In keeping with the recommendation a tax limitation bill has been introduced by Senator Benson of San Jose. It provides that no county may in any year make a total tax levy which will produce an amount more than five per cent. in excess of the amount produced by the total tax levy of such county in the preceding year.

As an illustration of the working of this principle, a county which in the fiscal year 1915-16 produced by its total tax levies the sum of $100,000, would be limited to $105,000 as the total of its tax levies in the fiscal year 1916-17.

To meet emergencies or special requirements, provision is made whereby, on proper showing, a board of authorization, consisting of certain state officials, can grant permission for a county in a particular year, to go above the limit. But the right is reserved to the people who pay the taxes, to accept or reject such permit or refusal of permit by referendum process if they so desire.

The experience of the states above has shown that the limitation law serves as an effective check against extravagance and unnecessary increases of the tax burden.

SUPREME COURT MAY HAND DOWN ADAMSON RAILROAD LAW DECISION TUESDAY

The Supreme Court may decide the Adamson 8-hour law to-morrow. The court meets at noon and the emergency legislation which President Wilson forced through Congress to avert a nation-wide strike of railroad men which would have tied up the traffic of the country, may be decreed constitutional or unconstitutional at that time. Should this decision not be among those handed down to-morrow there is a chance that it may be handed down next Monday. Railroad men say that upon the court's decision in this case depends the amicable settlement or renewed fight between the railroad operators and the trainmen. The law was to have gone into effect January 1, but pending the Supreme Court's decision the additional pay of the railroad men under its provision has been held up. If the law is declared constitutional the 400,000 railroad men will receive this additional pay.

$1,000,000 FOR TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN

The National Tuberculosis Association announced to-day, Monday, that the holiday sale of Red Cross Christmas seals had raised $1,000,000 for the tuberculosis campaign.

"Without the co-operation of the newspapers these tremendous results from the Red Cross seal sale would have been impossible," said Dr. Charles J. Hatfield.

The Association is proud of the fact that the slogan of the campaign, "one seal for every inhabitant of the United States," has been realized. The sale last fall amounts to a voluntary tax of one cent for each man, woman and child in the country, except the insular possessions.

Seals were sold in every state and territory of the United States except Guam, Tahiti and Samoa. Counting the school children who sold seals numbering approximately 300,000 the total number of agents approaches 500,000. This includes school teachers, merchants, store keepers, professional men.

The association says the little Christmas tokens have been responsible, not only for the control of tuberculosis, but also for tremendous advances in the whole field of public health work.

Open windows the whole year through are to-day the rule rather than the exception. Tuberculosis is to-day generally recognized as curable and preventable, while ten years ago a vast number of people still held to the theory that it was inherited, incurable and unpreventable.

THE PUBLIC POCKET BOOK

State Controller Chambers, in his last two biennial reports, has laid special emphasis on the desirability of a better understanding, on the part of the people, of the financial affairs of city, county and state governments.

When it is considered that the net indebtedness reported by all the civil divisions of California increased over eight-fold in the eleven years between 1902 and 1913, with an increase, in the same period, of nearly 350 per cent. in the total net debt of counties, and that the years since 1913 have witnessed large additional increases in the net obligation of cities and counties, the force of the Controller's observations can be appreciated.

California has been passing through great developments necessitating in many instances heavy expenditures which have fallen on the tax payers. Development is welcomed and its costs, when economically contracted, properly managed and equitably assessed, will not occasion logical complaint. It is of vital importance, however, to those who do the paying, to know whether the systems and methods underlying our public financial transactions are sound and economical, or wasteful and extravagant. We cannot, without bearing excessive and destructive tax burdens, meet our real requirements, which are many and diverse, if we waste any considerable portion of our substance through inefficient financial management.

In order that our problems may be interpreted in terms easily understood and that public attention may be focused on the vital points and parts of our fiscal systems, a citizen agency, working in co-operative spirit with our public officials, and yet maintaining strict independence of observation, judgment and constructive criticism, and deriving its data, where necessary, at first hand, undoubtedly can accomplish excellent results.

GARDEN SOCIETY ENTERPRISE

MAKE THE BACK YARD REDUCE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Hundreds of families in Glendale are trying to live on small incomes. Hundreds of families in Glendale are suffering from the high cost of living, wondering how to make ends meet. Hundeds of back yards in Glendale are lying absolutely idle. Hundreds of vacant lots in Glendale raise nothing but weeds. Yet every foot of ground could be made to yield a profit. Vegetables of all kinds are soaring in price, and will continue to soar.

RICHES IN GLENDALE SOIL

Any family can raise sufficient vegetables in the back yard to materially reduce the high cost of living. Glendale soil will grow anything. From the produce of your own back yard you can live independently of the Chinaman or the middle man. Raise your own carrots, onions, lettuce, beets, radishes and potatoes. Plow, or dig up, your ground immediately, because weeds are absorbing the precious moisture. Dig at once, and conserve the moisture within the soil. Get your ground ready right away.

FREE EXPERT INSTRUCTION

Perhaps you do not know what to plant, how to plant, when to plant. No matter. The Glendale Garden Society will give you free expert advice and teach you how to grow your own vegetables. Any man or woman, boy or girl, desiring information, will be gladly assisted.

FREE EVENING CLASSES

The Garden Society has arranged that every evening this week, from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. at 1111 W. Broadway (courtesy Glendale-Montrose Railway Co.) an expert grower will be in attendance to meet the public and to give free information to all persons desiring guidance. If you do not need the instruction, perhaps your neighbor would be mighty glad to have it. Tell him about it.

HELP OTHERS TO HELP THEMSELVES

The Garden Society stands ready to lend a helping hand to those who need it. The officers of the Society appeal for co-operation in this great work. They need offers of assistance from men or women of practical agricultural experience willing to give instruction in tilling of soil and sowing of seed. They need assistance from people willing to lend, if necessary, hand plows or other gardening tools. They need offers from individuals willing to advance or donate money to start home gardens for deserving cases, or for general maintenance of the society's objects. How many Glendale citizens are willing to become patrons of this movement?

TRUE AMERICANISM

The time has come when we must inexorably insist on good citizenship as an indispensable element of common morality. At the same time we must hold to the great truth that personal integrity is the foundation of true Americanism. The ultimate hope of a democracy lies in the balanced union in each individual of NATIONAL LOYALTY AND PERSONAL HONOR AND SERVICE.

Patriotism must include something more than voting and going to war under the impulse of mighty feeling. It must include the whole round of our duties to ourselves and others. The only way by which this is possible is, first, to think of America as of divine origin and with a lofty and sacred mission—the application and spread of the great principles of democracy.

NATIONAL ALLEGIANCE MUST BECOME A PART OF OUR MORAL CODE, CHALLENGE AND SPUR TO THE FINEST PERSONAL ACHIEVEMENT AS A DIRECT CONTRIBUTION TO THE NATION'S WELFARE.—By Rev. Frank W. Crowder, New York City.

TROUBLES

Troubles are things the average man is much inclined to magnify. Troubles are a great deal like that little thing you got in your eye the other day. It hurt as if it were as big as a peanut, but when you got it out you found it was almost invisible.—New York Sun.

There is nothing more impressive as an exhibition of power than the expansion of a great tree and its wonderful power of resisting the storms and winds. But that process is soundless; eternal silence seems to brood in the shadow of this miracle of strength and dignity.—Hamilton W. Mabie.

SUGAR CONSUMPTION INCREASE

The people of the United States are apparently using more sugar than ever before, for the increase in consumption has been greater than the increase in population. According to figures in Bulletin 473, recently prepared by the Bureau of Crop estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture, the total consumption of sugar in this country for the decade ending with the fiscal year 1912-13 was 42.9 per cent greater than the consumption for the preceding decade, while the population for the same period only shows an increase of 21 per cent.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHRIST

The Rev. Norcross, pastor of the West Glendale Methodist church, entered very earnestly and with depth of feeling upon the subject, "A Message from the Christ," at the morning service. It was a heart-to-heart talk with his people and the main thought developed was that, if Christ has been lost out of the heart within the past day, week or year, that each may get a lesson.

The story of the loss of the Christ child and how the parents found Him in the Temple talking with the learned men. It is a very beautiful study; it brought out some helpful, workaday thinking. Living today should not be based upon a supposition. Each life should be well grounded in certainty.

When Christ's parents found him, he was with them then, and there was no uncertainty about it. Bro. Norcross said: "Christ can become a certainty to every individual."

The boy was away from his parents three days and three nights. He was not with them. No question about that. They were hoping that he was safe but that was a supposition. He was lost. Would the business man work long upon supposition? Would your banker get new business upon the supposition that you may or may not be protected when you make a deposit with him. The basis of superstition is not practical.

Some day, no doubt you have acknowledged Christ.

We often times suppose that Christ is with us on account of the past experience of a year ago or when we is that proof that He is with us were converted. If He smiled upon us five years ago, is that conclusive evidence that He is doing so now? Because He once came into our lives, is that proof that He is with us now? We should not live upon such a supposition.

How can we know whether Christ is with us or not?

Just as Mary knew. Have you talked with Him today? Are you certain now of His presence?? There can be but one reason why you are not certain and it is that you are separated from Christ. Be honest with yourself.

What must we do to find Him? Christ's parents turned about. They sought. You will find Christ just where you left him. He never left you. You have forsaken Him. Make the wrongs of the past right.

Come to Christ, He will go with you.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. W. E. Edmonds yesterday morning at this church preached another sermon in the series finding their inspiration in the life of Elijah, taking for his text 1 Kings 18:21, "How long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God follow Him, if Baal, then follow him." The Lord had told Elijah two things: to go to Ahab, and that the rain was not far away. Ahab had threatened Elijah with death regarding him as the author of the disasters that had come upon the kingdom, but the fear of death did not deter the prophet from obeying the command of the Lord. He did not know what he should do when he went to Ahab; he only knew that he had to go and he trusted the Lord to reveal His purpose as he went along. We are in the same position that the prophet was in many respects and it is for us to go straight ahead and obey the command of the Lord regardless of the dangers in the way, for certainly we can trust Him to show us what to do when the time comes for action. None of us would want to know all about what the future has in store for us, to know the whole program of our lives. Far better to leave it to the Lord, and in this spirit the prophet went to meet Ahab. When he came into the presence of the King, he immediately took charge of everything, telling the King what to do, for the matter of a choice of Gods was to be left to the result of a test of fire. God had led these people in a miraculous way out of the land of Egypt and shown them his power in many ways through their long history, but they had forgotten Him and became worshippers of Baal. At this point the speaker painted a realistic word picture of the scene about the altars. All day long the false prophets called upon their god to send down fire and consume the offering, and there was no response, but when Elijah lifted up his voice in prayer there was no delay on the part of God. Immediately the fire descended and consumed the offering and even the water about the altar. It is to be noted that the first thing the prophet did here was to build an altar. Have you built an altar in your home? Is God first with you always? The test having been successful the prophet turned to the people and exclaimed: "How long will you halt between two opinions?" Inconsistency is one of the greatest sins. Are you inconsistently trying to make your life religious while you still follow Baal? No man can serve two masters. Truth is never changed by your opinion. There is but one thing to do: "Follow Him." And if you are going to follow Him you must turn your back upon the world. Oh, yes, there is good in the world, but there are a lot of bad doctrines in the world baited with a little truth, which lead those who follow them straight into the worship of Baal. You must be out and out a follower of the Lord or of Baal. Which will it be?

NEW RIFLE-REVOLVER CLUB

Walter E. Palmer, the secretary and promoter of the Seven Hills Club, has started to organize a club in this city, to be known as the Glendale Rifle and Revolver club. Mr. Palmer says Uncle Sam furnishes free guns and free ammunition to clubs which have been affiliated with the National Rifle association, in the proportion of one Krag to each five members, and 120 rounds of ammunition annually to each member in good standing. Members may purchase the United States government 1898 model Krag-Jorgensen rifles for $5 with the understanding that the gun remains the property of the government until the shooter has qualified as a sharpshooter or expert. The club can also obtain the Colts and Smith & Wesson revolvers from the government with ammunition for the same. Arrangements for a meeting will be made soon for the purpose of electing officers and other business pertaining to the new club. The fees will be one dollar per year, initiation, and 25 cents per month range fees.

HOME GARDENING INSTRUCTION

The Glendale Garden Society has arranged with Mr. A. H. Wightman of Sixth and Central, who is a practical farmer, to kindly give his services free this evening at 1111 W. Broadway at 7:30 to 8:30. Mr. Wightman will instruct and answer all questions relating to home gardening to all desiring information on the subject.

DO IT NOW

The buying public expects business men to talk to them through the local paper. Have you not something to sell and something to say to the public? Don't whisper down a well; but advertise and get busy. The people like to read what you have to say to them. Do it now. The merchants have it in their power, by advertising, to draw new business to any town.

Facts and Comment

Bismarck Houssels of the Long Beach Tuna Canning Co., after experimenting in canning whale meat, has found such a good demand for the new food that he is going into the whaling business on a large scale.

Charles Phillips of San Jose has offered to the War Department patents on an airplane that can travel on land and water and make 200 miles an hour in the air. He says his machine would revolutionize aerial travel and military airplane work.

Members of the order of Native Sons trudged out to Lake Merced in the southwestern end of San Francisco county last week to mark with a bronze tablet the spot where David S. Terry, a Supreme Court Justice, and United States Senator David C. Broderick fought the last duel in California on September 13, 1859.

Two evening city jail schools were opened as a branch of the regular evening night schools last October by Dr. Albert Shiels. As far as known these schools are the only ones of their kind in existence and were started purely as an experimental venture. But they have proven so successful that they will be made a permanent branch of the Los Angeles school system.

City Attorney Decker of San Fernando has filed with the railroad commission the application for appraisal of the systems of the San Fernando Mission Land company and the Consolidated Securities company. This is the preliminary step to having the commission fix the valuation on the two plants so that the city can call an election to vote bonds and purchase them as planned.

Dr. Frederick P. Gay, head of the department of pathology at the University of California, will announce in a bulletin within a few days, successful experiments on a cure of tuberculosis in animals and the prospect for similar results in the treatment of human beings with a newly discovered anti-toxin. Dr. M. Takeota of San Francisco, a member of the staff of the medical school of the university, has isolated a secretion of the liver which, according to an announcement, has effected complete cures in the cases of guinea pigs, at the point of death.

Rumors have been floating about Hollywood that the directors of the University of Southern California are considering moving that institution to a tract of land within a short distance of Hollywood, a distance which will be made much shorter should the proposed subway project go through, says the Hollywood Citizen. According to the rumors heard thus far, a ten-acre tract of land has been offered the trustees as a site upon which to build a new University. This proposition is being considered as well as propositions from other localities desirous of securing the University.

Building operations on new business buildings for San Fernando will begin shortly. Two store buildings will be erected adjoining the postoffice on North Maclay avenue, on the site now occupied by two small offices. They will be 25x100 and will have cream pressed brick fronts with green trimmings to correspond with the First National Bank building. At the same time the postoffice will be remodeled and will have a front built to match the other two buildings. Work will also be begun on remodeling the old Morningside school building into eight three and four room apartments.

At a union meeting of all the churches in Hollywood Wednesday evening a committee was appointed to take necessary steps to secure a community Y. M. C. A. for Hollywood. Briefly the work of the community or non-equipment associations is as follows: A secretary, with special training in boys' work is placed in charge. The equipment necessary is an office for the secretary and ground which can be used for athletics. The secretary does his work through the schools and Sunday schools, aiming to keep the boys interested in these institutions rather than detract their attentions to another, as is the case with a fully equipped building.

BREAKING EVEN

After old Mose had been given a job the foreman saw him comfortably seated on the sand he was to shovel, directing another dusky laborer. "Why, Mose," he exclaimed, "I did not hire that man. What's he doing here?"

"I got him er-doing my wuk, sah," replied Mose.

"Who pays him?"

"I does, sah; I pays him a dollah a day sah."

"Why, that's all you receive, Mose. How do you profit by the transaction?" asked the amazed foreman.

"Well," replied Mose, "I gets to boss de job, doan' I?"

PROSPERITY FOR GROWERS

The Lankershim Laconic says: The continued rains have made prosperity sure. The ranchers of this valley are in great luck and that means much to all of us here. There will be a demand for every pound of every crop produced from the valley soils this coming year. Every available inch should be cultivated and made to produce. The very gentle February rains assure a crop of any kind in this valley. Every rancher can make good this season. It is his day and he is urged to roll up his sleeves and go to it. The world at large needs his labor. Prices will not only be high but the demand very active for everything. Packers of canned fruits and vegetables are warning the world that the prices will be higher for their products the coming year. Cannery representatives are in this valley contracting pumpkins, tomatoes and other vegetables at record prices. Freezing weather in the Southern Gulf States has destroyed millions of dollars' worth of small fruit and vegetables. So plant, plant, plant. As before stated, deciduous fruit prospects are of the very best; so prepare to smudge, smudge, smudge. When other produce opens up with good prices, fruit follows suit.

TOO MUCH FOR THE LAWYER

At a trial in Baltimore a youthful physician was summoned as a witness, and naturally in the cross-examination a lawyer seized the occasion to be sarcastic.

"Are you," demanded the lawyer, "entirely familiar with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

The young physician replied, "Yes, sir, I am."

Then the smart lawyer put a hypothetical case before the doctor in this way:

"If my learned friend, Mr. Reid, and myself should bang our heads together, would we get concussion of the brain?"

The young physician calmly replied, "Mr. Reid might."

A Scottish doctor who was attending a laird had instructed the butler of the house in the art of taking and recording his master's temperature with a thermometer. On paying his usual morning call, he was met by the butler, to whom he said:

"Well, John, I hope the laird's temperature is not any higher today?"

The man looked puzzled for a minute and then replied:

"Weel, I was just wonderin' that mysel'. Ye see, he deed at twal o'clock."

A humane society had secured a show-window and filled it with attractive pictures of wild animals in their native haunts. A placard in the middle of the exhibit read: "We were skinned to provide women with fashionable furs."

A man paused before the window and his harassed expression for a moment gave place to one of sympathy. "I know just how you feel, old tops," he muttered. "So was I!"

"When Liberty first sought a home on the earth
No altar the goddess could find,
Till art's greatest triumph to Printing gave birth,
And her temple she reared to the mind.
The phantoms of Ignorance shrank from her sight,
And Tyranny's visage grew wan,
As wildly he traced, in the Volume of Light,
The pledge of redemption to man!"

DEFYING DEATH

Levity of the songs of soldiers has often been commented upon. Perhaps the levity is a relief from the frightful strain they are under.

To a popular concert-hall tune the Tommies at Somme are singing the words here quoted—singing these dreadful words to the roar of the enemy's guns—mere Tommies defying the very death under whose dripping scythe they march:

The bells of Hell go ting-aling-aling
For you but not for me !
For me the angels sing-aling-aling,
They've got the goods for me.
O Death where is thy sting-aling-aling;
O Grave, thy victories?
The Bells of Hell go ting-aling-aling
For you, but not for me!

To discipline your habits, your efforts, your wishes; to organize your life, to distribute your time, to take the measure of your duties; to employ your capital and resources; your talent, and your chances—to do all this with profit is to know the meaning of the word order. Order means light and peace, inward liberty, and outward command; order is power.—System.

STAY IN LINE—DON'T CROWD

Recently a colored gentleman walked into a Los Angeles business house and the following dialogue took place:

"Mawnin' sah! Is you de boss?"

"Yes; I am in charge at present."

"Ah wants to know if you all has a job aroun' heah wifout a niggah tied to it—ca'se if you all has de job, I's de niggah."

Now, if you all have a job of printing without a printer tied to it—we are the printers.

THE NEW COMPETITION

Arthur Jerome Eddy says that times are changing, and with the times, business methods must needs change also. Secrecy is yielding to publicity, men are coming out into the open and dealing more fairly with one another. As an inevitable result competition is undergoing a change, the old is giving way to the new, true competition is taking the place of the false.

Things are happening so fast that the country does not quite comprehend. The people do not understand the new competition that is slowly but surely taking the place of the old, courts do not understand it, legislatures do not understand it, therefore they oppose it and vainly try to preserve the old and vicious orders of things—try to make men fight when they no longer wish to fight, to make them destroy one another industrially and commercially when they are striving to establish industrial and commercial peace.

Mr. Eddy further says, in his book, "The New Competition," that the old cry, competition is the life of trade, is yielding to the new cry, co-operation is trade. The old cry is the echo of primitive and barbaric conditions; it never did mean competition on terms of fairness and equality; it meant the relentless suppression of the weak, the merciless triumph of the strong, it meant methods so questionable they are now condemned as criminal. The old, with its unfair advantages, its secret prices and rebates, its conspiracies to ruin competitors, help favored parties, localities, towns, at the expense of others, is passing; the new is taking its place, is winning its way in spite of ignorant clamor, regardless of legislative enactments, in the face of hampering decisions; it is winning its way because, fundamentally, it is right—it is progress.—Print Shop Talk.

SECRET OF SUCCESS

Attention to detail is the secret of success in every sphere of life, and little kindnesses, little acts of considerateness, little appreciations, little confidences, are all that most of us are called on to perform, but they are all that are needed to keep a friendship sweet.—Hugh Black.

No man can live to himself alone. He must come in contact with others. By his conduct, his speech, he does have an influence upon the community. That influence may be for good; if not for good it is for evil. If the leading men in a community are leading clean, helpful lives, the moral tone of that community is good. As the leading citizens purposeth in their hearts so is the community.

I do not know
Where falls the seed that I have tried to sow
With greatest care;
But I shall know
The meaning of each waiting hour below,
Some time, somewhere.

A CONFESSION

"What's most liable to get broke about your motor car?"

"The owner," replied Mr. Chuggins.

Men are judged by the company they keep—and a company is judged by the men it keeps.

When a man loses faith in himself he sets an example which others quickly follow. Never engage in any business with a feeling of doubt in your mind or a conviction of failure in your heart.

Better a single-track mind with the system working than a double-track with the signals mixed.

Militarism and Imperialism are closely allied—are, in fact, different manifestations of the same social conditions.—Herbert Spencer.

To those who cannot understand many things are impossible.

Some men can spend money faster than their wives can earn it.

Electric light bills should be filed under the head of light literature.

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

(By Dorothy Head, Aged 13.)

The Bird and Flower club met as usual at the corner of Brand and Broadway, at 11:45 Saturday morning. The directors of the club have become so busy that they have been forced to give up the weekly meetings, and have decided that the "little band of nature students" will take the trip the first Saturday of every month.

The time was spent in learning the names of many of the beautiful wild flowers which are showing their little bright heads around us at this time of year.

Lunch was eaten on the spacious and lovely porch of Mrs. Nanno Woods, who has given this kind privilege several times. The swing and chairs were all filled with children eager to learn the many wonderful things of nature yet to be studied. After lunch and a good rest, young and old tramped up to La Ramada, gathering wild flowers as they went along. When at La Ramada, Miss Olive Williams, one of the directors, kindly gave each one an ice cream cone, which certainly tasted good after the walk.

Having learned the names of many flowers the children and grown-ups declared they had spent a lively and happy day. And if you wish to spend your time learning about nature and to have happy times, you will certainly join the Bird and Flower club and will be welcomed.

CALIFORNIA

Why go to California? The answer is—California itself. For no other state offers you such a varied choice of attractions, such a diversity of entertainment. Whatever your moods (if they be pleasant ones) they here find an answer. No matter how extravagant, no matter how simple your tastes, they are satisfied in this land of golden sunshine and living flowers. From the gardens under the sea to the glistening summits of the snow-crowned mountains, Nature has lavished her gifts most rare on this, her favorite daughter. Her air is intoxicating with the fragrance of exotic flowers and the "tang" of health-bringing breezes from mountains and sea. And the delightful hospitality of her charming people is as big and broad as the country in which they live. California is itself—incomparable with any other land—because there is but one California.

Did you ever hear the meaning of the word California? It belongs to no language. Hundreds of years ago, when Spain was ripest in genius, and chivalry, a forgotten poet conceived, out of the treasures of his fancy, a fairy kingdom, where night wore diamonds for stars and dawn was lighted by a sun whose rays broke into dust of gold—and he called his dreamland "California."

So that when in after centuries his countrymen first beheld the golden shores of the Western Seas, there seemed but one name fitting for so glorious an empire, and they called it "California," the land of golden suns, jeweled gardens and life eternal, and what name could more befit? For there, along the Pacific, time cannot conquer beauty; redwood and mountain alike seem to endure since the first dawn.

Hills that have their feet in the fragrant seas—turquoise canopies overhead—flowers, splashing rocks, and meads with color beyond the genius of the painter—highways hedged with spontaneous tangles of rose geraniums and goldenrod, sweetening every vagrant wisp of wind with wild perfumes that no bottle will ever prison.

Come to California and renew your faith in the worth-whileness of existence, come and behold wonders beyond the concept of imagination.—From Rock Island Booklet.

BOUND FOR CALIFORNIA

An Illinois paper from a town this side of Chicago reports the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hamilton of Chicago and their 20-month-old son on the first stretch of a 2600-mile journey from the lake city to Los Angeles, which they expect to reach in 140 days' travel. They will follow the Lincoln highway to Ogden, Utah, branching off there upon the Santa Fe trail over the Rockies. The paper quoted states they are making only about seventeen miles a day on account of the bad roads. They are endeavoring to make their traveling expenses en route by selling postcards of themselves and of their outfit. The little son, Fletcher Hamilton, is described as looking out inquiringly upon the world from the depths of a miniature prairie schooner drawn by his father. The wagon is 36 inches long by 22 inches wide, and snug in his bearskin coat and cap the youngster smiles heedless of the cold weather. Hot water bottles and an alcohol stove aid in keeping him comfortable. The wheels of the wagon are very small, being only seven inches in diameter, being purposely made so, Mr. Hamilton stated, to prove to an anxious and waiting world that wheels of that size can travel across the Rocky mountains.

Many a man gets a pretty bad fall from being thrown on his own resources.

SPEAK A GOOD WORD

When the stranger enters your gate, speak a good word for your town, for your neighbors, for the community.

It is but little for you to do, but it is rich in the fruits of after years.

A community is judged by the words and acts of its people, and we of this community are judged by others in like manner.

If the hearts of our people are warmed by the fires of comradeship and brotherly love our acts will be in accord with our feelings, and the world will know us as a community of honor and integrity, as a people with a soul, as a place worthy of a future.

But if we loose the floodgates of criticism and abuse and belittle the community and its people, then in time we will descend to a level which we create for ourselves, and the world will know us as a people whom it is well to let alone.

Every day we are adding new rungs to the community ladder, but are they going up—OR DOWN?

Speak a good word, brother—speak a good word!

SHE GOT ACQUAINTED

She is a sociable little girl of six, but her first day at school gave her little opportunity to meet the other children she did not know. The second day she came home at recess with a black eye. She had fallen from the "teeter totter" at school. Her first thoughts were of the pain, but soon she surprised her mother by saying:

"As soon as I fell all the other children came right up. It was the quickest way of getting acquainted with all of them."—Indianapolis News.

MISTAKES

Life, like war, is a series of mistakes, and he is not the best Christian nor the best general who makes the fewest false steps. He is the best who wins the most splendid victories by the retrieval of mistakes. Forget mistakes. Organize victory out of mistakes.—F. W. Robertson.
